

Diane Simpson

Diane Simpson is one of the most entertaining & informative speakers you will ever hear.

A handwriting expert & profiler, she is funny, original & as they say, something completely different. She advises big businesses on executive recruitment & has worked on high profile crime investigations including the infamous Yorkshire Ripper.

She has appeared on more than 100 television & radio programmes & as well as being one of P&O's most esteemed lecturers, she is a member of the Chartered Institute of Bankers Exclusive Speaker Panel. After dinner presentations, luncheons, medical conferences, seminars, training sessions & informal gatherings, Diane offers a range of talks appropriately tailored to her audience.

Often described as a cross between Jo Brand & Shirley Valentine, her humour is dry & witty; her anecdotes are first-hand & amazing while her hilarious but non-invasive audience participation is a well established norm.

She is a member of the British Institute of Graphologists, The Graphology Society, Victim Support, Friends of Broadmoor, Appeal Council of the Psychiatry Research Trust, Chartered Institute of Bankers Speaker Panel & Mensa. Diane was awarded a Fellowship of the RSA in 2003.

Her books include: Graphology with Diane Simpson; The Analysis of Handwriting and Your Handwriting & You. She also writes the hugely popular Graphology column in Marketing magazine & is an expert in the use of fonts (a fontologist).
